Every four years the democrats ar. compelled to sing-"Let 'Em up Again.

Mr. Tilden is doubtless glad that he will not be the corpse at the democratic funeral next fall.

A republican paper which attempts to kick over the traces kicks itself worse than it does the party.

The democratic party running after Tilden for a candidate, is like the Vermont company which marched seven miles to decorate a grave, and found, at | most gushing manner to a representative ter running, that it wasn't the grave of a soldier, but of a man who was hanged.

The democrats have started the report nection with the hospital in a way to that fears are entertained that Mr. shield himself, of course, and charges Blaine's health will break down. It the that the contest against him is conceived democrats can find a crumb of comfort in that report all right. He will be the liveliest sick man that ever managed a political campaign in this country.

A dispatch from Cincinnati regarding the German movement in that city, says: "It has been supposed that the Germans, especially those of Cincinnati, would not indorse Blaine, but in response to a call the State board acted with malice toward this evening Turner Hall was packed Dr. Kempster. The marriage, it is stated, will take place early this winter, and as a matter of course, be very brilliant—Evening Wisconsin

The statement comes from Chicago that there is not a shadow of truth in the above report The Evening Journal says the report had "its origin in petty malice, Mr. Emmons G. The kind of personal malice which would invade the sanctity of the private domestin circle in order to annoy or injure the object of its hate is simply Satanie."

The campagn promised to be too het for Mr. Tilden, and he has written an open letter declining to be a candidate before the national democratic convention. This may not be a surprise, but it has caused a genuine sensation. There has been a constant ery among the democrats for the "old ticket" for some months. Notwithstanding the report that Tilden was sighing on the very brink of the grave, the leaders of the party were working for the old man's nomination. They wanted to avenge the "fraud" of '76, and to do penance for the wrong of '80, when the Cincinnati convontion refused to give bim the nomination. State after state selected delegates for Tilden, but when the Chicago convention put in nemination Blame and Logan there came a change over Logan there came a change over tion. The democrats may say that they expected all this, but it will nevertheless fall upon the party like a wet-blanket. It will compol the democrats to nominate a man around whom the party can not rally with any outhusiasm. It is a forernuner of defeat, and openly acknowledges the weakness of the democratic party.

Ne Declares His Public Career Ended and Declines Further Honors

Text of a Letter Which Settles Another Campaign Question.

The Democratic Statesman Declares His Health Too Feeble to Permit His Assumption of the Great Responsibilty.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The following letter has been furnished for publication: DANIEL MANNING, CHAIRMAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE, Now York: DANIEL MANNING, CHAIRMAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE, New York: In my latter of June 18, 1889, addressed to the delegates from the state of New York to the Democratic national convention, I said: "Having new borns faithfully my full share of labor and care in the public service, and wearing the marks of its burdens, I desire nothing so much as an honorable discharge. I wish to lay down the honors and toils, and even quasi party leadership, and to seek the repose of private life. In renouncing a renomination for the presidency, I do so with no doubt in my mind as to the vote of the state of New York, or of the United States, but because I believe that it is a renunciation of reelection indisponsable to an effectual vindication of the right of a people to election to the presidency."

To those who think my nomination and re-election indisponsable to an effectual vindication of the right of a people to elect their rulors—violated in my porson—I have accorded as long a reserve of my decision as possible, but I cannot evercome my repugnance to enter into a row engagement which involves four years of ceaseless toil. The dignity of the presidential office is above a merely personal ambition, but it creates in me no illusion. Its value is its great power for good to the country. I said eight years ago in accepting the nomination: "Knowing as I do, therefore, from fresh experience, how great the difference is between gliding through an official routine and working out a reform of systems and policy, it is impossible for me to contemplate which needs to ed done in the federal administration without an anxious sense of the difficulties of the undertaking. If summoned by the sof-frages of my rountrynian to attempt this work I shall endeavor with God's balp to be the officient instrument of their will."

frages of my countrymen to attempt this work I shall endeavor with God's help to be the efficient instrument of their will."

Such a work of renevation after many years of misrule, such a reform of systems and policies to which I would cheerfully have sacrificed all that remained to me of health and life, is now. I fear, beyond my strength. My purpose to withdraw from further public service, and the grounds for it, were at that time well known to you and others; and when at Cincinnati, though respecting my wishes, you communicated to me an appent from many valued friends to relinquist that purpose, I restorated my determination unconditionally. In the four years which have since slupsed, nothing las occurred to weaken but everything to strongthen the considerations which induced my withdrawal from public life. To all who have addressed me or the subject, my intention has been fraultly communicated. Several of my most confidential friends, under sanction of their own names, have publicly stated my determination to be irreversible. That I have occasion now to consider the question is an event for which I have no responsibility. The appeal made to me by the Democratic masses with apparent unanimity to serve them once more is entitled to the most deferential consideration, and would inspire a disposition to de anything desired of me, it is were consistent with my judgment of duty. I believe that there is no instrumentality in human society so potential in its influence upon mankind for good or ovil as the governmental machinery for administering justice and formating and executing laws. Not all the olomosynary institutions of private benevolence to which philanthropists may devote their lives are so fruitful in benefits as the meating and executing laws. Into all the olomosynary institutions of private henevolence to which philanthropists may devote their lives are so fruitful no benefit as the instrument of conspiracy, fraud, and crime against the most sacrod rights and interests of the people. For fifty years, as were praying for their own destruction them that they don't want Tilden, and the prospect is that they will nominate cither Oleveland or Flower, and possibly Bon Butler. At any rate, it is not the year to nominate the old Fraud of Gram-Dr. Kempeter, who will be removed from the position of superintendent of the Northern hospital for the insane, on the first of July, unbosoms himself in a of the Oshkosh Northwestern. He of his conin jealousy and fostered by permicious legislation. The doctor has a woeful story to tell, and in defending himself he naturally throws all the blame upon the No one who has judgment cool enough to look at this question impurtially, and who knows the members of the board, will, for a single moment, believe that down that another might be raised up. They had no perfonal quarrel with Dr.

given three years of my life.

the issue of reform, which the Democratic majority of the people desired to have worked out in the federal government, as it had been in that of the state of Now York. I believed that I had strength enough them to removate the administration of the government of the United States, and at the close of any term to hand over the great trust to a successor, faithful to the same policy. Though anxious to sook the repose of private life, I nevertheless acted upon the idea that every hour is a trust and involves a duty. In reply to the address of the consolite communicating my nomination, I depicted the difficulties of the undertaking and likened my feelings in engaging in its to those of a soldler entering battle, but I did not withhold the entire consecration of my powers to the public service. Twenty years of continuous maladministration under the demoralizing influences of intestine war and of bad france, have infocted the whole governmental system of the United States with the cancerous growths of false constructions and corrupt practices. Powerful classes have acquired pocuniary interests in official abuses, and the moral standards of the people have been impaired. To redress these evils is a work of great difficulty and labor, and can not be accomplished without the most energotic and efficient personal action on the part of the chief executive of the republic. The canvass and administration which it is desired that I should undertake would embrace a period of nearly five years, nor can I admit any illusion as to their burdens. Three years of expurience in the ondervote of New York, and two years of experience in renovating the administration of the state of New York have made me familiar with the requirements of such a work.

At the present time the considerations which induced my action in 1850 have be-the requirements of such a work.

At the present time the considerations which induced my action in 1880 have become imporative. I ought not to assume a task which I have not the physical strength to carry through. To reform the administration of the federal government—to realize my own ideal, and to fulfill the just expectations of the people would indeed warrant, as they could alone compensate, the sacrifices which the undertaking would involve. But in my condition of advancing yours and declining strength I feel no assurance of my shifty to accomplish those objects.

ance of my ability to accomplishe those objects.

I am, therefore, constrained to say definitively finit I cannot now assume the labors of an administration or of a canvass. Undervaluing in nowise that best gift of Heaven, the occasion and, the power sometimes bestowed upon a mere individual to communicate an impulse for good; grateful beyond all words to my fellow countrymen who would assign to me such a beneficent function, I am consoled by the reflection that moither the Democratic party nor the republic for whose feature that party is the best guarantee, is not now, nor never can be, dependent upon may one man for their successful progress in the path of a noble destiny.

Having given to their welfare whatever of health and strength I possessed or could borrow from the future, and having reached that term of my capacity for such labors as that welfare now demands, I but submit to the will of God in deeming my public cares.

the will of God in deeming my public careey forever closed.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN. NEW York, June 12 .- The San says of Tilden: The honor that is the rich reward of no-ble services faithfully rendered, was never brighter than at this hour. Mr. Tilden has once been elected president of the United States. Superior to all thought of personal ambition, he has twice declined a re-election, and the years of life that still remain will be made happy by acknowledgments of the nation's debt of profound gratitude and ven-

Teeth attempthened and purified by SOZODONT are not only whiter, but chew better than others. As the teeth improve through its use, cating becomes a delightful indulgence instead of a pentalty. The World says: Great always, and wise and far-seeing. Mr. Tilden's power and fit-ness has never appeared to better advantage than in this letter; and it is in the completest sense a justification of the confidence reposed in him by his party.

The Horald after making running com-ments on Mr. Tilden's language, says: It is cortain that some other only a trille less satisfactory to Democratic opinion will be a great deal more satisfactory to a vote that is to be of much moment in this election, the vote of the independent Republican. Consequently Mr. Tilder's refusal may not prove an unmixed ord to the Democrats. The Times says: In the present divided condition of the Republican party it is an act condition of the Republican party is is an act of great measure and promise. It removes from this Democratic party a prospective candidate which it seemed to desire and consider inevitable, a candidacy sure to be welcome to a large portion of that 'party, but obviously not acceptable to the independent vote which the Democratic party can bring into alliance with itself in the coming can-

How Hendricks Views ft. Indianapolis, Ind., Juno 12.—The Hon-Thomas A Raudricks, in an interview con-cerning Tilden's letter of declination, said carring filters letter or econication, such the news was not a surprise to Lim, for when he visited Mr. Tildon in August last, that gentleman very firmly amounted his intention to remain permanently out of politics. On a succeeding visit in April last the same determination had been expressed. Mr. Hendricks thought there was little doubt that the old ticket would have been unanimously nominated at the Chicago convention if it had not been for the declination. It is said that the demand for it among the Democracy was almost uni-versal and greater than any movement of the kind that had over been in politics. Personally he felt the kind that had over been seen in politics. Personally he felt me great disappointment; he did not want the office of vice president eight years ago, and did not want it now; if the offi ticket had remained in the field he should have considered the election to that place a great honor conferred by the people as a rebuke to what they consider a great wrong; in 1876 from becoming a precedent for future in :876 from becoming a precedent for futur elections Mr Handricks added that only as an expression of indignation of the people would be have regarded the election to the vice presidency as an honor to be sought.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK.

Meeting of the International Sunday. School Convention at Louisville. LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 12.—The interna-tional Sunday-selved convention has begun its fourth session in this city. There were about 900 delegates in attendance, representand too dolegates in territory in the Union and the British North American provinces. The meeting was called to order in the operations by B. F. Jacobs, of Chicago, chairman of the executive committee. The morning session was consumed in addresses of welcome and responses. In the afterwelcome and responses. In the atternoon a permanent organization was effected by the election of Hon. Thomas W. Blcknell, of Massachusetts, prosident, with thirty-seven vice presidents and a corps of sceretaries. In taking his seat Mr. Bicknell said that he considered the honor greater than that of being elected president of the United States. A long report from the executive committee was submitted and executive committee was stromated and adopted. The statistical secretary reported a growing increase of Sunday-schools, pupils and teachers. The number in the United States is now estimated at 8,712,551. The treasurer's report showed that after contraction and the recovery of the recovery of the recovery. paying all expenses of the convention and the incidental outlays a belance of 800 re-mained in the treasury. ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Reception in the Academy of Music

BROOKLYN, June 12.—The annual public reception of the society of the Army of the Potomac was held in the Academy of Music. There was an immense audience. The stage was arranged so as to represent a camp scene and looked very natural, probably made more so by the presence of the One hundred and sixty-fifth New York volunteers, sec organization mounted guard and paced the platform as on sentry duty.

Gen. Newton called the meeting to order and expressed his regrets that Gen. Grant could not be present. Mayor Low delivered an address of welcome, and spoke of the glo-ious record of the Army of the Potomac and of Gen. Grant as the hero of Appomattox. The soldiers cheered Grant's name.

During the remarks of Low, one of the Zouaves, who was doing picket duty, fell in a fainting fit, having become exhausted by the long march during the day. He was carried off by his comrades. Gen. Newton responded to the address of Mayor Low. An original poem was read by John Savage. Gen. Hornce Porter made the formal closing address.

At the meeting of the society in the after-noon, the following officers were elected for 1884: President, Gen. U. S. Grant: treasurer, Gen. McMahon; secretaries, Gens. George H. Sharp and H. C. King. Gen. Grant made a few remarks, returning thanks for the honor. The next meeting of the society will be held at Bettimon.

New York, June 12.—A dispatch received here indicates that Mr. Blaine will visit New York on June 22 to be present at the organization of the Republican national committee, which will meet on that date at the Fifth Avenue hotel. Thus far only two names are monitioned in connection with the chairmanship, viz., ex-Senator J. B. Chafleo, of Colorado, and ex-Congressman Stophen B. Elkins, of New York, formerly of New Mexico. After the meeting of the committed Mr. Blaine will take a trip over the West Virginia read, of which he is director. This will be en a tour of inspection of all the directors, which was planned several months ago, and while it will be probably regarded as a political movement, has really no such significance, unless Mr. Blaine should be induced to make a few speeches there. After his West Virginia trip Mr. Blaine will spand a few days at Deer Park, Md., before entering upon the work of the campaign. His friends here say it is more than probable he will take the stump in West Virginia, Olico, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Indiana.

The Appropriation Fixed in the River and Harbor Bill-The Senate's Secreey - Morrow To Be Court-Martialed-Notes.

Washington City, June 12.—The appropriation for the Hennopin canal ran the gent-let of the committee of the whole house, and escaped by a narrow majority. The opposi-tion first attacked it upon the ground that under the rules of the house the committee on rivers and harbors had no jurisdiction of canals. This and other points of order were raised by Burr Jones, of Wisconsin, and Holman, of Indiana, and the discussion lasted an hour and a half. They maintained that whatever merits the canal project might have, it clearly came within the jurisdiction of the Churchites on railways and canals which committee on railways and canals, which has reported a bill in favor of the canal, and it dought to be considered apart from the improvement of rivers and harbors. Ex-Governor Richard Hubbard and others addressed the convention. The speakers all declared the tariff issue to be the great central figure in the coming contest.

At the night session resolutions were presented declaring a tariff for protection is unconstitutional, unjust, and conflicts with the genius and spirit of free government. The present tariff is denounced as a scheme for protection of monopolics and amasterpiece of injustice and false pretense. It has destroyed American about. The resolutions say: "Widle we favor education of the masses by every legitimate means we regard the educational bill pending in congress as unconstitutional and dangerous, an eneroachment on the rights of the states, and another great step toward centralization of all power in the federal government, and the destruction of the republic." Resolutions were passed declaring Tilden and Hendricks to be the choice of the Democracy of Texas.

Pipe smoking is the real test of a lobbaced. It is the regal way of smoking. You get more directly at the flavor and fragmence. You take the smoke cooler, and the unite closelier and after. Pipe smoking is stacking reduced to a flavourt.

The more the question of adulterated tobacco forces itself on the attention of smoking, the more detailed in becomes to know precisely what you are smoking. In Elackwell's full Durham Smoking Tobacco you have aguarantee, always, that it is Auture's own unadulterated product. His fragrance, flavor, and unsurpassed quality aredorived from the self and air.

Sherer & Co. -Milton has been considerably excited during the past week by a real estate transaction between L. S Borden and C. H. Fuller. The former traded his notel property to the latter for his lot and building south of the postoffice, Fuller to give Borden a mortgage of $2,500 on the hotel property as the boot money. There was a mortgage of $300 on the fuller place held by Mrs. D. Craudal, who was induced to release and take a second mortgage on the hotel property.

A day or two after the papers were made, Fuller became insane, and many citizens have felt that injustice was not only done Fuller in securing a very high price from him for the hotel property, but that Mrs. Crendall suffered a total loss of the amount of her mortgage by the transaction. The above are the facts in the case as we understund them. A meeting of citizens interested was held Saturday with the case as the metric of the night to cauvass the matter and a committee was appointed consisting of Messrs. E. Brown, D. Walsh and Wm. Vincent, to interview Mr. Borden, and see it some arrangements could not be made whereby the property could be re-transferred. The committee failed to make any satisfactory arrangements, and on Monday evening another meeting was held lat which time one hundred dollars beld, at which time one hundred dollars was subscribed and placed in the hands of a committee to take logal steps in the matter. Later in the day the committee and Mr. Borden came to an understanding, we are informed, and upon the payment of two hundred dollars to Borden he is to reconvoy the property back to Fuller and gives Mrs. Crandall a mortigage on the property to secure her. This seems to us to be an amicable adjustment of an infortunate affair, for all concerned. It is simple justice to Mr. Borden to say that previous to making an arrangement with the citizens committee he want and saw Mrs. Crandall, and pledged himself to pay her the face value of her mortgage or give her a new one for the full amount on the Fuller place.

boastful, ignorant pretender, but an educated physician, seeking to do good, by devoting his talent and energies to the treatment of a class of maladies that have been with him a long and inticat study. To be able to treat successfully chronic discuses it requires that a physician should be a sound, thorough scuolar in the art of science and medicine generally. He should give his ontire time to their study, be thorough in his investigations and have a long and varied experience. Dr. Frewer claims to work no wonders or to do any more than any well eduented physician can do, who devotes his who time to the study and treatment of chronic dis-cases exclusively, and has had his many years of experience. For years Dr. Brower has visited the the places he now visits, and has obtained his reputation by being honest in his dealings, candid in opinions and reasonable in his charges. stood under a beautiful and an elaborately wrought umbreils, made of white peony's, representing a fitting sholter from the storms of life. The bridesmaid was Miss Fanny Ray, sister of the groom, and the groomsman was Dr. Charles L Clark. The bride was richly dressed in white with resebuds. The guests were composed entirely of the relatives and the more intimate friends of the contracting parties, and among those from abroad were Mr. and Mrs. A. Deland and Miss Nellie Terwilliger, of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Rolle, of Springfield, Illinois, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Fish, of Pecatonica, Illinois. The wedding dinner did full honor to the happy occasion, and the guests were served by the members of the L. A. C. F. club. The presents were numerous,

What is Ammonia?

The attention of the public has called frequently of late to the subject of "ammonia in food," and the matter is being so vigorously agitated that it neces sarily arouses the curiosity of the public et large, and leads them to escertain, if ossible, what it is all about. In the first place the question arises, what is ammo-nia? whence comes it? Quoting United States Dispensatory,

> Mother and Sister. WHEELING, W. Va., June 12.—A boy named Andy Adams attended a series of meetings held by the minister of a Baptist church on North creek, near here, in the dis trict school-house. He became deeply im-pressed and then insane on the subject of religion. The family consisted of the boy, a sister of 8 years, and the mother, who lived sister of 8 years, and the mother, who have in a sparsely-sattled neighborhood. The non appearance of the family caused apprehensions. On Monday the neighbors called at the bouss and discovered that both mother and daughter were dead. The former's head was smashed and the lat appearance. Blood was everywhere. The mother was killed with an ax, and the daughter's throat was cut with a butcher knife. The boy is in custody. The religious incetings have been stopped.
